Property

Miriam regularly appears in the County Court representing parties in possession proceedings, including forfeiture claims, and has acted as sole Counsel in numerous fast track and multi-track trials. She also has extensive experience in the First-tier Tribunal (Property Chamber) dealing with residential property matters.

Miriam has recently and regularly advised on or acted in cases in the following areas of property litigation:

- Electronic Communications Code
- Specific performance of a contract for the sale of land
- Service charge disputes

- Costs in a service charge context
- Forfeiture and relief from forfeiture
- Eviction of a Rent Act tenant
- Possession proceedings under the Housing Act 1988
- Opposed lease renewals under the Landlord and Tenant Act 1954
- Vesting orders under the 1993 Act
- Priorities of interests in a registered land context
- Validity of collective enfranchisement/lease extension notices
- Enforcement of a party wall award
- Access to Neighbouring Land Act 1992
- Urgent trespasser claims in the County Court and High Court
- Discharge/modification of restrictive covenants
- Easements
- Land registration
- Professional negligence (in a property litigation context).

Miriam has had the opportunity to be led by senior members, as follows:

- With Toby Watkin KC in the High Court concerning a claim by the tenant that the landlord has unreasonably withheld consent to assign.
- With Tom Weekes KC in a claim concerning the construction of a lease and derogation from grant.
- With Toby Watkin KC for the landlord in an opposed lease renewal under the 1954 Act involving grounds (c), (f) and (g).
- With Katharine Holland KC in a contractual dispute in the High Court (Chancery Division).
- With Myriam Stacey KC on a case concerning the general boundaries rules and implied and prescriptive easements.
- In Iceland Foods Limited v Aldi Stores [2016] EWHC 1134 Miriam appeared in the High Court, led by David Holland KC, before Mr Justice Mann on an issue concerning the construction of a lease.

Miriam is a contributing editor of Hill and Redman's Law of Landlord and Tenant (Residential Tenancies, Division C) and a regular contributor to Estates Gazette in a joint column, "Moot Point." She presents regularly at Chambers seminars.
